PLANNED TO REACH REAL CULPRITS IN THE SUGAR GOUGE

SUIT FILED YESTERDAY BY GOVERNMENT HIT ONLY AGENTS OF SUGAR OWNERS

WILL TAKE MUCH FERRETING TO DIG OUT THE REAL PRICE BOOSTERS IN DEALS

(By United Press)
Washington, April 20.—The government's next move in the sugar situation will be an attempt to bring down prices to consumers. This will be more difficult than the ending of the suit filed yesterday against alleged sugar gamblers, officials admitted today. It may be impossible, they said; the suit filed in New York will not do it.

That suit, they said privately, does not hit the real culprits in the sugar gouge. It hits only the agents of the actual owners of vast supplies of sugar who, according to officials here, are engaged in a conspiracy to increase sugar prices and who have masked their operations behind a screen of gamblers and speculators at whom yesterday's suit was aimed.

Manipulation of sugar prices on the New York exchange were in other word "arranged" the government said, to cloak a were plot to levy tribute on the American sugar consumers.

Washington, April 20.—The government's suit for an injunction to stop trading in sugar on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange will not put an end to the sugar gouge, Basil M. Manly, director of the peoples legislative service declared in a statement issued here.

Manly, whose telegrams to President Harding in Florida precipitated the government's action against the sugar gamblers, declared the suit filed failed to touch the "higher-ups" who arranged the alleged price boosting conspiracy of traders on the exchange.

TORCH OF REVOLT BEING CARRIED THROUGH RUHR VALLEY BY UNEMPLOYED

BARRICADES OF MATTRESSES AND HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE SET UP AT MULHEIM

(By United Press)
Berlin, April 20.—Eight persons have been killed and many wounded in hunger riots at Mulheim since yesterday.

The torch of revolt is being carried through the Ruhr valley by excited unemployed. Barricades of mattresses and household furniture were set up in the streets of Mulheim where enraged armed men camped about the city hall, besieging the officials.

The criminal police assisted by some citizens, volunteers, finally succeeded in chasing the weary hunger rioters from the city hall and inner section of the city. Twenty were arrested.

The invaders fled into the west end of the city. A dispatch via Amsterdam announced that there was violent fighting about the city during the night and that this stronghold was at that time the point holding against the demonstrators.

Bands of unemployed tramped through the streets of Ruhr towns about Essen holding up pedestrians and automobilists.

They sought arms and munitions with which to procure food and shelter.

The unemployed met with but little resistance in most of the towns inasmuch as the security police have been disbanded by the edict of the French forces of occupation.

The rioting began Wednesday when officials were unable to satisfy the demands of idle workers for increased government allowances in the distribution of food. They threatened then that if the increases were not forthcoming within a few hours, there would be trouble.

The most serious situation is in Mulheim. There the stores have been closed and the unemployed appeared to have partial control of the town.

SECOND ATTEMPT TO REACH STARVING SETTLERS BY PLANE

LIEUT. RUSSELL MEREDITH BUCKS HEAVY WIND WITH BOMBING PLANE

CARRIES FOOD TO MAROONED PARTY ON SOUTH FOX ISLAND, LAKE MICHIGAN

(By United Press)
Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 20.—A second attempt to save the lives of ten persons marooned without provisions on South Fox Island in northern Lake Michigan will be made by government aviators today.

The first relief attempt failed last night when Lieutenant E. C. Whitehead and a companion aviator narrowly escaped death as their airplane crashed through the ice of Grand Traverse Bay at Northport, Michigan, where a landing was attempted.

A De Havilland bombing plane laden with food for the starving party left here this morning. It was piloted by Lieutenant Russell Meredith, hero of the midwinter mercy flight across Lake Michigan to Beaver Island where he brought medical aid to a woodsman dying from a fractured skull.

A heavy wind is sweeping Grand Traverse Bay and upper Lake Michigan, it was reported here. This will make the mercy flight all the more perilous, officers said, and orders have been given Lieutenant Meredith not to attempt a landing on the storm swept island but to drop the provisions from the plane and return directly to the mainland.

It is believed that members of the marooned party are near death because word brought here Wednesday night by three men who braved the treacherous ice floes to reach the mainland reported that food supplies were nearly exhausted.

Edward Hoorn, 23, of Sutton's Bay, one of the three men who fought their way to Northport, was slowly recovering from the effects of the sixty hour battle with the ice and storms in Lake Michigan. Carl Cooper and Ellis Sayres who accompanied Hoorn on the perilous trip, returned to their homes in Traverse City.

CHICAGO PLANE ALSO PLANS TO GIVE RELIEF

Northport, Mich., April 20.—The airplane sent by T. E. Wilson, Chicago packer, to rescue ten people marooned and reported starving on Fox Island arrived here at 8:40 a. m. today. After a brief stop at Northport for Pilot John Miller to get his bearings, the plane started for the island, 18 miles across the lake.

Miller found that he could alight on a cleared place on the island, and planned to return the people to the mainland.

J. G. ARMSON OF TAX COMMISSION OF STATE, PRESIDING

EXPLAINED DUTIES OF ASSESSOR AND APPLICATION OF NEW LAWS GOVERNING

WORK OF ASSESSOR FORMS THE FOUNDATION FOR STATE AND COUNTY TAXATION

Gifted with fair weather and improved roads, Friday marked a large attendance of assessors of Crow Wing county at the court house, convening at 10 o'clock in the morning and also holding an afternoon session during which J. G. Armson, representative of the Minnesota Tax commission, explained the work and duties of an assessor and answered questions.

"The assessor is one of the most important officials connected with our system of state and local taxation," said Mr. Armson. "His work forms the very foundation upon which our tax structure is reared, and unless the foundation be well laid the superstructure is sure to suffer."

"The office of assessor requires the exercise of good judgment and the strictest impartiality. More than $110,000,000 are now levied annually in taxes for the support of local and state governments, and the valuation upon which these taxes are imposed are fixed in the first instance by the assessors of the state. It will be readily admitted that unless all property subject to taxation is fully listed and equitably valued the burdens of government will not be fairly apportioned among those who should bear them."

Mr. Armson emphasized the fact that the justice and equality of an assessment depend almost entirely on the work of the assessor. Unless his duties are discharged in a thorough and conscientious manner the assessment will be an imperfect one, for no subsequent step by boards of review or equalization can overcome the defects of a careless or inequitable initial assessment. "It is, therefore, important," said Mr. Armson, "that neither friendship nor vindictiveness should influence an assessor in his work, nor should favoritism or prejudice be shown either rich or poor. If the property of every taxpayer is assessed exactly alike as to value, there can and will be no just cause of complaint so far as the work of the assessor is concerned."

Mr. Armson explained to those present all the laws relating to the duties of an assessor and impressed upon them the importance of their office. He explained that the fundamental requisites of a good assessment are, first, a complete listing of all taxable property and second, an equitable valuation of the same. After explaining all points of law covering the duties of an assessor, Mr. Armson answered questions in connection with this work both from the assessors and from other citizens, of whom there were several at the meeting.

The following is the list of assessors present at the meeting, giving township, village or city, name and address:

Allen—Clarence Peterson, Swanburg.
Baxter—Charles Barrett, Brainerd.
Bay Lake—W. H. Waffensmith, Deerwood.
Crow Wing—Arthur Anderson, Crow Wing.

INDOOR CIRCUS, THRILL A MINUTE

One Sensation After Another at Event Staged by Rotary and
Lions Clubs

THURSDAY EVENING IS DATE

Daring Chariot Races, Acrobatic
Stunts, Trained Animal Acts,
Etc.

A thrill a minute, sixty laughs
per second and one sensation after
another is the way the Indoor Circus
is described, which big event will be staged by the Rotary and Lions
clubs of Brainerd on next Thursday
evening.

The committees in charge of these festivities refuse to disclose the details of the program, other than it will be held at the Ramsford hotel,
will begin promptly at seven o'clock
and that it will be a Ladies Night, when the female of the species, both Lionesses and Rotary Anns, will witness a performance which would make P. T. Barnum or Ringling
Brothers green with envy.

Glaring, flaming circus posters
have been printed announcing the
event, and stating that among other things the spectators will be treated
to daring chariot races, hair-raising
acrobatic stunts, trained animal acts,
side-splitting clowns, and lots of
beautiful girls, the vamping kind,
you know, ladies.

Neither the Rotary nor the Lions
club has entertained their ladies for
some little time, and they propose
to make up for this seeming neglect
on next Thursday evening.

No remedy
can cure all al-
lments of the human body, but
an immense
number of people suffer from
aches, pains and disease symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

NUXATED IRON
is an eminent physician's
best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help
you. Ask for it at any drug store.

Thoroughbreds Three

THE GIRL—As pure and sweet as a baby's smile, fragrant with daintiness and symbolic of all that makes Kentucky's womanhood
revered at home and abroad.

THE BOY—Young, impetuous and with an inherent faith in all mankind;
clean-minded, honest almost to a fault; loyal to the point of personal peril.

THE HORSE—Big and upstanding, kindly of eye, fleet as the Blue Grass winds, gentle as the zephyrs, yet as staunch-hearted and as courageous as any jungle beast.

THE THREE—In a Jack Pickford photoplay alive with action; so thrilling that it hurts, so entrancing that it holds. A great star in a great story with a great cast.

RUGS!

At the NORTHERN HOME FURNISHING CO. you can find anything in RUGS that you want. Until you have seen them, you cannot realize how wonderfully pretty our stock of RUGS are. Their fascinating patterns, their lovely, soft colorings, their smooth, fine weave, are a genuine delight to every woman who appreciates beautiful floor coverings.

We want to call special attention to our new HEATHERDOWN rugs. Not alone are the designs unusually attractive; the quality of the rug itself is exceptional. A remarkable, new method of production has given to HEATHERDOWN rugs certain features that you do not expect to find combined in any one rug—features that give them great durability as well as lasting beauty.

The smooth, soft surface of the rug, the firmness and pliability of the fabric, the thick, three-ply weave,
make the rug noiseless, soft and pleasant under foot,
and give it a sturdy resistance to hard wear that is really amazing.

YOU CAN AFFORD HEATHERDOWN RUGS FOR EVERY ROOM OF THE HOUSE

Though HEATHERDOWN rugs have the charm of a high-priced rug, they are priced unbelievably low.
You can in fact get two HEATHERDOWN rugs for about what you expect to pay for one. And every rug gives double wear, because it can be used on both sides.

If you have only $35.00 or $45.00 to spend for a 9x12 rug, or if you must make $45.00 to $50.00 to cover the cost of one large and several smaller rugs, HEATHERDOWN rugs
will meet your needs perfectly.

We also have a full line of other makes of rugs. You must see them to appreciate the tremendous value you

Event Staged by Rotary and
Lions Clubs

THURSDAY EVENING IS DATE

Daring Chariot Races, Acrobatic
Stunts, Trained Animal Acts,

A thrill a minute, sixty laughs
per second and one sensation after
another is the way the Indoor Circus
is described, which big event will be staged by the Rotary and Lions
clubs of Brainerd on next Thursday
evening.

The committees in charge of these

tails of the program, other than it
will begin promptly at seven o'clock

Lionesses and Rotary Anns, will
witness a performance which would
make P. T. Barnum or Ringling
Brothers green with envy.

Glaring, flaming circus posters
have been printed announcing the
event, and stating that among other
things the spectators will be treated
to daring chariot races, hair-raising
acrobatic stunts, trained animal acts,
side-splitting clowns, and lots of
beautiful girls, the vamping kind,
you know, ladies.

Neither the Rotary nor the Lions
club has entertained their ladies for
some little time, and they propose
to make up for this seeming neglect
on next Thursday evening.

CARDINAL MERCIER ASKS FOR ACTION

CARDINAL MERCIER, of Belgium, who became well known during the World war for his heroic attitude, is not satisfied with world conditions, nor is he impressed by the service of peace organizations that look to future good while neglecting an attempt to bring order out of the chaos of present conditions.

Perhaps the cardinal is right in asking that the League of Nations open an international crusade against the soviet of Russia. Such action by the League of Nations would be entirely different from action taken by any one nation or any small group of nations. The League of Nations represents a large number of the nations and is interested in bringing about such conditions that the world may be restored to tranquility and prosperity. This hope will not be realized until wrongs are righted, and in correcting what is wrong it may be necessary to pass through a period that will not be marked by its quietude.

If it is true that the soviet holds power by force and represents but a minority of the Russian people; that it has been responsible for the destruction of many lives in Russia, not only by deliberately murdering those in opposition, but also because of the conditions that have resulted from its control; and if this control is preventing any permanent government and stable conditions in Russia, which together are reacting on the rest of the world, the League of Nations may conclude that it is justified in interfering in Russian affairs.

The cardinal states the present attitude of the League of Nations very well when he says: "Assuredly, it is very beautiful to assemble in a pacific convention the delegates of nations and to consider means of preventing future violations of right and eventually to suppress them." But, while awaiting the possibilities, would it not be wise to be concerned with the reality of the present? In this statement of the league's position and suggestion that it is not attending to present affairs, the cardinal has said a word that has to do with other troubles than those of Russia. No one can say what is to develop out of the invasion of the Ruhr valley, and Belgium is mixed up in that invasion. Nor can any one predict with certainty what the developments in the Near East will be. The League of Nations has a splendid opportunity of asserting itself with reference to these troubled parts of the world. So long as it sits in convention and does nothing it will not win the respect of the peoples of the nations that are represented in it.

When the cardinal asks that the League of Nations organize a crusade against the soviet for the purpose of saving "our age-old civilization," he may be on the wrong track. Civilization must save itself. It is not as much endangered by the inroads of its enemies from without as it is by the mistakes of its enemies within. Such nations as Belgium, France, England and the United States would be included by the cardinal within the group of nations sharing "our age-old civilization." They do share it, but we venture that, when eyes are turned to the Ruhr valley and the Near East, and the near breakdown of "our age-old civilization" is seen, it becomes a matter of concern as to how these nations are to save their civilization from destruction through their own follies quite as much as a concern over the dangers from without.

Veneration of the "age-old civilization" will not save it, and unless it advances with passing time, veneration, that results in failure to observe its faults, may hasten its end. The tactics of Caesar, Alexander and Napoleon are not sufficient unto our age with its advancing democracies. The ideas and ideals of the middle ages will not meet the demands of our modern age. The world needs a new renaissance of intelligence and good-will.

SHORT-SIGHTED POLICIES

It is unfortunate that human nature is such that men refuse to do the larger thing because they fail to see personal advantage in so doing. The $20,000,000 bond issue for good roads in Minnesota was clearly of the nature of the larger good but because sectional and selfish interests would not down the issue was defeated, thereby money will be wasted and the state of Minnesota will not make needed improvements to the much traveled roads.

It is said that the bond issue failed to pass because representatives from the southern counties of the state felt that the money would be used to build roads between the larger centers and would be used largely by tourists. These men failed to sense the value of this tourist travel. Settlers are not needed in southern Minnesota and, therefore, southerners are not interested in attracting tourists. The money spent by the tourists is not spent in the southern counties and representatives from these counties are not interested in having it spent in large amounts in the northern part of the state.

Because the northern lake region would reap the benefit from the good roads the southern part of Minnesota refused to cooperate and would not see that tourists are building up this part of the state by buying property and paying taxes. It is perfectly right that a tonnage tax should be assessed against iron ore mined in northern Minnesota for such a tax relieves the tax-payers of southern Minnesota. It is quite right to draw this income from a northern industry but it did not seem right to representatives of southern counties that $20,000,000 in bonds should be issued to build good roads into the counties where the mines are that will yield large returns to the state.

No state can develop itself and become what it might be as long as this sectional policy dominates legislators. To be so partisan that, even when taxes are not in any way affected, members of the legislature will deliberately block legislation that confers a boon upon the state, because in conferring that advantage it aids one section more than another, does not reflect credit upon those who are so short-sighted that they fail to see the interests of the state that lie outside of the boundaries of the districts in which their constituents live. To take the position that, because it does not benefit my town, even though it costs my town nothing, I will prevent other towns from reaping advantage is to take a position that is—well, those who take it may say what it is so that the description of the policy may not be too harsh.

HOME-SEEKERS IN BRAINERD

THE DISPATCH joins the Civic and Commerce association, the school board and other organizations in Brainerd in extending a welcome to the disabled service men who are in Brainerd at this time. Because the visitors are service men the people of Brainerd and Crow Wing county are convinced that they would make good settlers in this county. Having served their country with such abandon that they were disabled in service these men are of the kind that will stand for the best American ideals.

It is not necessary to point out in this column the many advantages of Brainerd and Crow Wing county. Those who are given the task of showing our visitors over the city and county will attend to that, but we may express the conviction that Crow Wing county offers opportunities that are not to be passed over without serious consideration.

Statistics that will be furnished by the county agent, E. G. Roth, will be convincing. Crow Wing county is developing in a wonderful way and gives promise of developments that will eclipse anything that has been seen in its past. Mixed farming, dairying, poultry raising, fruit and other branches of agriculture, may be pursued in Crow Wing county with the assurance that the results will be equal to those in other counties when the many things for and against are balanced.

The citizens of Crow Wing county welcome the men who are looking over the county with a view to locating here. They wish to have a school for disabled service men and hope that those who decide to locate in this county may enjoy prosperity on the land while they share the wonderful natural beauty of a county that is peculiarly fortunate in having within its borders some of the beauty spots of Minnesota.

JUDGE GARY FORGETS 1919

JUDGE E. H. GARY in attacking the restricted immigration law has evidently forgotten the great steel strike of 1919. At that time the steel interests were out to show the people of the United States that the foreigners within our borders were poisoning the springs of our American life. The immigrants were painted a bright red color and it was claimed that very many of them saluted the red flag. In fact the propaganda used in that strike to win the sympathy of the American public is largely responsible for the attitude of the American public towards immigration at this time.

The intelligent people of the United States cannot quite see how America is to be saved by immigration in 1923 when American institutions were threatened by immigration in 1919. If the steel interests misrepresented the immigrants in America in 1919 they will do well to say so; but a recent book, endorsed by these interests, attempts to show that not only were the workers in the steel industry red but those who dared to investigate conditions in that industry were also red. Men like the late Bishop C. D. Williams of Michigan were painted red, and their fellow citizens were expected to look upon them as dangerous to our American institutions.

Either the steel interests were wrong in 1919, in disseminating propaganda that dyed immigrants a startling red, or they are wrong at this time in asking for an increase in the immigrants to be admitted to this country. Conditions in Europe have not been such as to suggest that immigrants admitted at this time would be less red than those admitted before 1919. The reverse is more likely to be true.

If America is making a mistake of an economic character as Judge Gary claims; America, on the showing made by the steel interests themselves, is not making a mistake of an organic character. America will not profit by gaining cheap labor if America loses her institutions in getting cheap labor. When the steel interests recall their propaganda of 1919 the people will be willing to listen to talk about increasing the quota of immigrants in 1923. What they called red then they cannot change to white now, unless they admit that it was not red when they called it red.

If we could feed our people a little more this would be one fine world, if what the surgeon said in Minneapolis is true. He claims that Americans and English are humanitarians because they are well fed.

A PROFESSOR speaking on the psychology of love says that if girls would win husbands they must flatter them. Well what man would be attracted by a girl who always said how insignificant he was! It's reasonable—this theory.

THE 1923 session of the legislature is over and the legislators may pray that they be forgiven for the many things they have left undone and, perhaps, for a few of the things they have done.

Those who employ labor in Brainerd may well rejoice that the nearest major league baseball park is in Chicago.

BRAINERD's citizens are 100 per cent sane. Not one of them has gone after the long distance dance record.

It is said that two full moons in April indicate a big crop of weddings in June.

Great Work Has Disappeared.

The first complete English Bible did not appear until 1535, when a translation was made by Miles Coverdale and printed in Switzerland, probably Zurich, by Martin Froeschover. This was not a translation from the original Hebrew and Greek texts, but from other translations. Nevertheless, it is regarded as a scholarly effort. No perfect copy is known to exist.

Missed the Car!

A firm of car manufacturers secured a fine testimonial in a letter from a quondam owner lamenting that he had been left by his wife, who had gone off in the car. Why exactly he should look to the makers of it for sympathy one cannot understand, unless he expected a new one gratis, but he informed them that he did not know how he was going to get on without the car! Of course, they could hardly be troubled with any need he might feel for his wife.

CARDINAL MERCIER ASKS FOR ACTION

CARDINAL MERCIER, of Belgium, who became well known during the World war for his heroic attitude, is not satisfied with world conditions, nor is he impressed by the service of peace organizations that look to future good while neglecting an attempt to bring order out of the chaos of present conditions.

Perhaps the cardinal is right in asking that the League of Nations open an international crusade against the soviet of Russia. Such action by the League of Nations would be entirely different from action taken by any one nation or any small group of nations. The League of Nations represents a large number of the nations and is interested in bringing about such conditions that the world may be restored to tranquility and prosperity. This hope will not be realized until wrongs are righted, and in correcting what is wrong it may be necessary to pass through a period that will not be marked by its quietude.

If it is true that the soviet holds power by force and represents but a minority of the Russian people; that it has been responsible for the destruction of many lives in Russia, not only by deliberately murdering those in opposition, but also because of the conditions that have resulted from its control; and if this control is preventing any permanent government and stable conditions in Russia, which together are reacting on the rest of the world, the League of Nations may conclude that it is justified in interfering in Russian affairs.

The cardinal states the present attitude of the League of Nations very well when he says: "Assuredly, it is very beautiful to assemble in a pacific convention the delegates of nations and to consider means of preventing future violations of right and eventually to suppress them. But, while awaiting the possibilities, would it not be wise to be concerned with the reality of the present?" In this statement of the league's position and suggestion that it is not attending to present affairs, the cardinal has said a word that has to do with other troubles than those of Russia. No one can say what is to develop out of the invasion of the Ruhr valley, and Belgium is mixed up in that invasion. Nor can any one predict with certainty what the developments in the Near East will be. The League of Nations has a splendid opportunity of asserting itself with reference to these troubled parts of the world. So long as it sits in convention and does nothing it will not win the respect of the peoples of the nations that are represented in it.

When the cardinal asks that the League of Nations organize a crusade against the soviet for the purpose of saving "our age-old civilization," he may be on the wrong track. Civilization must save itself. It is not as much endangered by the inroads of its enemies from without as it is by the mistakes of its enemies within. Such nations as Belgium, France, England and the United States would be included by the cardinal within the group of nations sharing "our age-old civilization." They do share it, but we venture that, when eyes are turned to the Ruhr valley and the Near East, and the near breakdown of "our age-old civilization" is seen, it becomes a matter of concern as to how these nations are to save their civilization from destruction through their own follies quite as much as a concern over the dangers from without.

Veneration of the "age-old civilization" will not save it, and unless it advances with passing time, veneration, that results in failure to observe its faults, may hasten its end. The tactics of Caesar, Alexander and Napoleon are not sufficient unto our age with its advancing democracies. The ideas and ideals of the middle ages will not meet the demands of our modern age. The world needs a new renaissance of intelligence and good-will.

SHORT-SIGHTED POLICIES

It is unfortunate that human nature is such that men refuse to do the larger thing because they fail to see personal advantage in so doing. The $20,000,000 bond issue for good roads in Minnesota was clearly of the nature of the larger good but because sectional and selfish interests would not down the issue was defeated, thereby money will be wasted and the state of Minnesota will not make needed improvements to the much traveled roads.

It is said that the bond issue failed to pass because representatives from the southern counties of the state felt that the money would be used to build roads between the larger centers and would be used largely by tourists. These men failed to sense the value of this tourist travel. Settlers are not needed in southern Minnesota and, therefore, southerners are not interested in attracting tourists. The money spent by the tourists is not spent in the southern counties and representatives from these counties are not interested in having it spent in large amounts in the northern part of the state.

Because the northern lake region would reap the benefit from the good roads the southern part of Minnesota refused to cooperate and would not see that tourists are building up this part of the state by buying property and paying taxes. It is perfectly right that a tonnage tax should be assessed against iron ore mined in northern Minnesota for such a tax relieves the tax-payers of southern Minnesota. It is quite right to draw this income from a northern industry but it did not seem right to representatives of southern counties that $20,000,000 in bonds should be issued to build good roads into the counties where the mines are that will yield large returns to the state.

No state can develop itself and become what it might be as long as this sectional policy dominates legislators. To be so partisan that, even when taxes are not in any way affected, members of the legislature will deliberately block legislation that confers a boon upon the state, because in conferring that advantage it aids one section more than another, does not reflect credit upon those who are so short-sighted that they fail to see the interests of the state that lie outside of the boundaries of the districts in which their constituents live. To take the position that, because it does not benefit my town, even though it costs my town nothing, I will prevent other towns from reaping advantage is to take a position that is—well, those who take it may say what it is so that the description of the policy may not be too harsh.

THE DISPATCH joins the Civic and Commerce association, the school board and other organizations in Brainerd in extending a welcome to the disabled service men who are in Brainerd at this time. Because the visitors are service men the people of Brainerd and Crow Wing county are convinced that they would make good settlers in this county. Having served their country with such abandon that they were disabled in service these men are of the kind that will stand for the best American ideals.

It is not necessary to point out in this column the many advantages of Brainerd and Crow Wing county. Those who are given the task of showing our visitors over the city and county will attend to that, but we may express the conviction that Crow Wing county offers opportunities that are not to be passed over without serious consideration.

Statistics that will be furnished by the county agent, E. G. Roth, will be convincing. Crow Wing county is developing in a wonderful way and gives promise of developments that will eclipse anything that has been seen in its past. Mixed farming, dairying, poultry raising, fruit and other branches of agriculture, may be pursued in Crow Wing county with the assurance that the results will be equal to those in other counties when the many things for and against are balanced.

The citizens of Crow Wing county welcome the men who are looking over the county with a view to locating here. They wish to have a school for disabled service men and hope that those who decide to locate in this county may enjoy prosperity on the land while they share the wonderful natural beauty of a county that is peculiarly fortunate in having within its borders some of the beauty spots of Minnesota.

JUDGE GARY FORGETS 1919

JUDGE E. H. GARY in attacking the restricted immigration law has evidently forgotten the great steel strike of 1919. At that time the steel interests were out to show the people of the United States that the foreigners within our borders were poisoning the springs of our American life. The immigrants were painted a bright red color and it was claimed that very many of them saluted the red flag. In fact the propaganda used in that strike to win the sympathy of the American public is largely responsible for the attitude of the American public towards immigration at this time.

The intelligent people of the United States cannot quite see how America is to be saved by immigration in 1923 when American institutions were threatened by immigration in 1919. If the steel interests misrepresented the immigrants in America in 1919 they will do well to say so; but a recent book, endorsed by these interests, attempts to show that not only were the workers in the steel industry red but those who dared to investigate conditions in that industry were also red. Men like the late Bishop C. D. Williams of Michigan were painted red, and their fellow citizens were expected to look upon them as dangerous to our American institutions.

Either the steel interests were wrong in 1919, in disseminating propaganda that dyed immigrants a startling red, or they are wrong at this time in asking for an increase in the immigrants to be admitted to this country. Conditions in Europe have not been such as to suggest that immigrants admitted at this time would be less red than those admitted before 1919. The reverse is more likely to be true.

If America is making a mistake of an economic character as Judge Gary claims; America, on the showing made by the steel interests themselves, is not making a mistake of an organic character. America will not profit by gaining cheap labor if America loses her institutions in getting cheap labor. When the steel interests recall their propaganda of 1919 the people will be willing to listen to talk about increasing the quota of immigrants in 1923. What they called red then they cannot change to white now, unless they admit that it was not red when they called it red.

If we could feed our people a little more this would be one fine world, if what the surgeon said in Minneapolis is true. He claims that Americans and English are humanitarians because they are well fed.

A PROFESSOR speaking on the psychology of love says that if girls would win husbands they must flatter them. Well what man would be attracted by a girl who always said how insignificant he was! It's reasonable—this theory.

THE 1923 session of the legislature is over and the legislators may pray that they be forgiven for the many things they have left undone and, perhaps, for a few of the things they have done.

THOSE who employ labor in Brainerd may well rejoice that the nearest major league baseball park is in Chicago.

BRAINERD's citizens are 100 per cent sane. Not one of them has gone after the long distance dance record.

It is said that two full moons in April indicate a big crop of weddings in June.

Great Work Has Disappeared.
The first complete English Bible did not appear until 1535, when a translation was made by Miles Coverdale and printed in Switzerland, probably Zurich, by Martin Froeschover. This was not a translation from the original Hebrew and Greek texts, but from other translations. Nevertheless, it is regarded as a scholarly effort. No perfect copy is known to exist.

Missed the Carl
A firm of car manufacturers secured a fine testimonial in a letter from a quondam owner lamenting that he had been left by his wife, who had gone off in the car. Why exactly he should look to the makers of it for sympathy one cannot understand, unless he expected a new one gratis, but he informed them that he did not know how he was going to get on without the car! Of course, they could hardly be troubled with any need he might feel for his wife.

"THE FLIRT"

Minneapolis Journal Critic Recommends "The Flirt"

Of all the photoplays of the week we like best "The Flirt," a successful attempt to reproduce the small town coquette on the screen. Booth Tarkington's story of the girl who broke her engagement whenever a new charmer appeared and ended by forging her father's name to an agreement to act as secretary in a worthless oil concern makes a photoplay that is praiseworthy because of the household. When Hedrick steals the diary that reveals his elder sister's love for the man who does not care for her, you watch a household tragedy as compelling as any the screen has shown. The audience is allowed to exert a little imagination, with the result "The Flirt" probably will be one of the best liked pictures of the year.

You will like the hard brightness of Eileen Percy as Cora, the selfish daughter; the down to earth method of George Nichols, who plays the father, and the suave restraint of Lloyd Whitlock as the swindler. Helen Jerome Eddy, always an excellent actress, hardly fits into this

MINNESOTA MINIMUM WAGE LAW IS LEGAL

F. A. Duxbury, chairman of the Industrial Commission of Minnesota, states that the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States, holding a minimum wage law passed by congress to be invalid, has no effect whatever on the validity of the Minnesota minimum wage law.

"The law involved in the decision was limited to the District of Columbia in which the city of Washington is located, and has no application to any state," said Mr. Duxbury. "The minimum wage law in this state was passed by the state legislature and has been held valid by our supreme court. The power of a state legislature to pass minimum wage laws has been sustained by the supreme court of the United States, and the recent decision in no way affects that holding."

"The impression which seems to prevail to the effect that the invalid-ity of the law passed by congress affects similar laws passed by the states is wholly unwarranted. The duty of employers to pay the minimum wage as required by the minimum wage law of this state has not been affected in any way by the decision of the supreme court of the United States, and it is hoped that no misapprehensions in regard to this duty will arise from the publicity which has been given to the decision of the supreme court of the United States with reference to the law passed by congress for the District of Columbia."

Jack Pickford in Great Racing Film

Jack Pickford never made a better motion picture, and in fact, few photoplays have been so completely satisfying in so many respects as this star's picturization of "Garrison's Finish," which is showing at the Lyceum tonight and Saturday.

It is so confidently predicted this latest cinema effort of the famous Mary Pickford's well-known brother will be regarded generally as a most advantageous beginning under a new banner and he seems assured of augmenting his popularity with the fans through it.

"Garrison's Finish" is one of those swift-moving racing stories such as are rarely written. Jack portrays the character of a heroic jockey and he acts and looks every inch the part. Forsooth, he was never better cast and with the charming Madge Bellamy supporting him as a beautiful romantic foil he succeeds in doing some of the best histrionic work of his long, brilliant career.

Mary Pickford herself wrote the titles and edited the film and there is no question as to her superiority in this line of work. "Garrison's Finish" is one of the truly good and vital pictures of the year.

WHERE CASH MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Nothing worth while in life can be had for nothing. Everything has to be paid for in toil, money or sacrifice. Business is operated for profit, people work to get what they want, they make sacrifices for pleasure.

Credit is a service and convenience to customers. Credit costs money to everybody. It costs the merchant lost discounts which he could have for cash. It costs him lost interest on the money invested in goods sold on credit. It deprives him of working capital. It costs him bookkeeping, collection, worries, etc.

There is no escaping paying for this. It is part of overhead expense. Goods must cost more if sold for credit. Anyone can see why. And as the largest share of purchases, after all, are for cash, the cash buyers pay the price for the convenience to the few.

THAT'S WHY THIS IS NOW A CASH STORE. It means that cash makes a difference and a big one. As a cash store we can save you all credit expense. Below we list some cash offerings for this week. They are a sample of what we can do under the cash system.

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, it-

Opportunities Awaiting Settlers in the Kirkland District Near Seattle, Wash.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE MONDAY

Given in New Park Theatre by William W. Watson and W. P. Perrigo of Burke & Farrar

William W. Watson, representing Burke & Farrar, Seattle land firm, has opened headquarters at the Ransford hotel in this city. Mr. Watson is especially interested in the development of the Puget Sound region in the neighborhood of Seattle, and has met with wonderful success on his trip
through Montana and the Dakotas.
He has with him W. P. Perrigo, pioneer of the Kirkland district in western Washington, who will lecture
here at the New Park theatre Monday evening, April 23, at 7:30 o'clock, on the farming possibilities of the Puget Sound country.

Mr. Perrigo's lecture is profusely illustrated with slides and motion pictures and is free. The lecturer himself is one of the outstanding figures among western Washington
pioneers. A farmer and trail builder, he took up land in the Kirkland district in 1877 when all that now highly productive region was a vast unpeopled wilderness. He has seen it change from that condition to its status of today, when it has a marvelous system of paved roads, and great markets close by.

In an interview Mr. Perrigo said:
"We pioneers thought that we were getting a start on the other fellow because we were enabled to get out land for little or nothing. Yet that was really an unimportant item. Compared with what the present day homeseeker has out there, we in reality paid double for our land, in work and retarded progress."

"In those days there were no markets, and nothing but rough trails except in the immediate vicinity of the largest settlements. My tract of land in the Kirkland district, which I bought from a railroad company
and on which I still make my home,
is now but a relatively few miles from Seattle. In those days it was a long, hard journey, first, we had to pack our stuff from the little settlement of Seattle, which then had a population of 2,500, to Madison Park
on the edge of Lake Washington.

"Now, street cars running every two minutes make this same trip in a fraction of the time. Once there, we were compelled to cross the lake
in a rowboat, for there was no paved highway around the lake as there is today, nor any large and commodious ferry, owned by the people of King county, to carry us back and forth. Once we had reached the other side of the lake, we were compelled to make another long pack
over a trail. Auto stages running on paved roads make the same trip
today."

"Seattle has grown from a population of 2500 to over 320,000; and it has the finest markets in the United States, I believe, publicity owned stalls where farmers, if they wish, may bring their produce and sell direct to the consumer. However that is unnecessary."

"Washington today heads all states in the union in the matter of fine roads. The modern auto truck, operated over paved highways, has replaced the pack horse of my early days, and shortened distance until they are negligible. The people out there are thinking in terms of success. Men are doing things and constantly new opportunities are opening up. Science has come to the aid of the farmer, as in the case of poultry and berry raising, showing the man on the land how to refute

the idea that larger acreage is necessary to success. Some of the most successful berry and poultry men I know have confined their efforts to relatively few acres, and will use additional acreage only when their rapidly expanding business just naturally outgrows their present
location."

"The pioneer has a wonderful satisfaction in seeing what has been wrought in a comparatively few years, but on looking back, I am inclined to give the pioneers greater credit than ever for tackling obstacles then which do not exist today."

It Grew—All Right.

Romance does have strange starting grounds. For instance, a reporter for the News was walking through the station and saw a porter brushing some rice off the back of a young man, who in turn gave him a dollar for the favor.

"See that rice," he said to the reporter, and then pointed to his bucket
of dirty water. "It started right here in this old bucket a few weeks ago."

Then he explained. He had been mopping the floor of the station when the young man stumbled against the bucket, spilled the water and ran into a strange girl. Acquaintanceship, love and the wedding followed. So satisfied with his bride was he that the young fellow wished to pay the porter who played a part in the romance. —Indianapolis News.

Low Antenna More Selective.

The single-circuit tuner will enable the listener to differentiate between two local broadcasting stations by erecting an antenna not over 15 feet high and 15 to 20 feet in length. It has been conclusively demonstrated that a low antenna is more selective than a high antenna. The selectivity on a given antenna can be increased by an additional series condenser between antenna and tuner.

Bicycle Car.

A European father devised an ingenious vehicle for the transportation of himself and his five children. Using the wheels, gears, pedals and chains of two bicycles he constructed a frame work mounted on four wheels,
steered and pedaled like a bicycle.
Here he mounted wicker baskets as seats.

First Voluntary Hospital.

Westminster hospital, which is to be enlarged by the addition of another story, was the first institution established by voluntary contributions in London. It was begun in a small house in Birdcage walk in 1715, chiefly through the efforts of Henry Hoare,
who formed a society "for the relief of the sick and needy at the Public Infirmity in Westminster," and developed so rapidly that within a few years a new building had to be acquired in Chapel street, providing accommodation for 60 patients. Another remodeling a few years later led to the resignation of a number of the governors, who subsequently founded the St. George's hospital at Hyde Park.
The present building was erected in 1834.

Extraordinary Birth Record.

Many readers will be interested in a case of five infants at a birth. The particulars are from India. The woman doctor in charge of the King Edward Memorial hospital at Rohtak in the Punjab states that on November 22 last a Brahmin woman in the hospital gave birth to five baby boys. All five are described as perfectly formed and of fairly large size. They and their mother were reported to be doing well on the 23rd, the day following.

as no other food can! Don't take a

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation
as you have never fought it before!

AND YOU WILL WIN.
In the first place, Kellogg's Bran
is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal.
In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading

Announcing the 1923 GARDNER FOUR

With the notably improved Motor

The new and finer Gardner for 1923 is here—worthy successor to the car that placed the Gardner Motor Company among the eight largest exclusive manufacturers of four-cylinder automobiles in 1922.

Designed to give unusual performance with relation to price, the 1923
Gardner assures in service the economy found in Fours alone, combined with the smoothness and flexibility of a greater number of cylinders.

The secret is in the five-bearing crankshaft of the improved Gardner motor—a feature found in no other four-cylinder engine—which has made possible greater power and greater speed without a discoverable
vibration point.

The unusually generous equipment includes 32 x 4 cord tires; 18-inch
hard-rubber steering wheel; motometer with bar radiator cap; drum
type lamps; channeled aluminum body moulding; genuine leather upholstery.

This balanced value is the reason for the full one-year written guarantee that accompanies every Gardner sold. Let us demonstrate the car; its story is best told upon the road.

Announcing the 1923 GARDNER FOUR

With the notably improved Motor

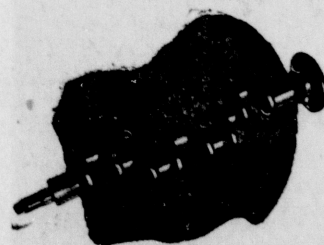

The new and finer Gardner for 1923 is here—worthy successor to the car that placed the Gardner Motor Company among the eight largest exclusive manufacturers of four-cylinder automobiles in 1922.

Designed to give unusual performance with relation to price, the 1923
Gardner assures in service the economy found in Fours alone, combined with the smoothness and flexibility of a greater number of cylinders.

The secret is in the five-bearing crankshaft of the improved Gardner
motor—a feature found in no other four-cylinder engine—which has made possible greater power and greater speed without a discoverable
vibration point.

The unusually generous equipment includes 32 x 4 cord tires; 18-inch
hard-rubber steering wheel; motometer with bar radiator cap; drum
type lamps; channeled aluminum body moulding; genuine leather
upholstery.

This balanced value is the reason for the full one-year written guarantee that accompanies every Gardner sold. Let us demonstrate the car; its story is best told upon the road.

Gardner five-bearing crank-shaft, a feature found in no other make of four-cylinder motor at any price.

ARTHUR E. BURKE DIED THURSDAY

Crushed Between His Engine and a Coal Chute, Unable to Survive Terrible Injuries

YOUNG MAN BORN IN ST. PAUL
During His Career as Railway Fireman Made Brainerd His Home Town

A. E. Burke, fireman on a switch engine in the local yards, who was crushed between his engine and a coal chute Wednesday afternoon while loading coal, died at five o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Arthur E. Burke was born in St. Paul, February 21st, 1896, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burke.

He attended the St. Paul public schools and about eight years ago took up railroad work as an engine man, being in line for promotion to engineer in the very near future. During his career as a fireman he has spent a great deal of his time working out of Brainerd, and has made this city his home.

Three weeks before the United States entered the World War, Mr. Burke enlisted in the Navy, where he served through the duration of the war and received an honorable discharge.

Mr. Burke was married about three years ago to Miss Anna Johnson. One child, Robert Leslie, was born to this union a year ago. In addition to his wife and baby, he is survived by his parents, two sisters and three brothers, being Anna, Caroline, Gust, George and Rolland Burke, all living in St. Paul.

The remains will be taken to St. Paul Saturday morning, and the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church on Maria street, of which Mr. Burke was a member. Interment will be in Union cemetery.

Mr. Burke had no lodge affiliations other than being a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

RUN OVER BY HIS OWN SPEEDER

Odd Accident Befalls H. P. Larson, Section Foreman at Hubert, Thursday

HIS HEAD WAS BADLY CUT
Train Stopped and Injured Man Was Brought to Brainerd for Treatment

H. P. Larson, section foreman at Hubert, was injured late Thursday afternoon when he jumped from his speeder, frightened by an approaching train.

Larson is said to have been returning from some section work north of Hubert, and coming around a curve saw an extra freight, which he took to be closer than it really was. Fearing that the train would hit his speeder, he jumped, but in his excitement instead of jumping to one side, he leaped in front of his own vehicle, which ran over him, cutting his head quite badly.

The train stopped and brought the injured man to Brainerd, where he is being cared for at a local hospital. It is not thought that his wounds are serious.

BUS SERVICE TO THE CITIES

Resumed This Morning by the Jefferson Highway Transportation Company

NEW STYLE CAR OPERATING
Is a Fageol Safety Coach Equipped With Hal-Scott Motor of Aeroplane Type

The Jefferson Highway Transportation Co., resumed its Brainerd-Minneapolis bus service Friday, the first bus left Brainerd for the cities at 8:40 a. m.

This big car caused considerable interest because of its unique construction. It is a Fageol safety coach, equipped with a Hal-Scott four-cylinder motor of the aeroplane type. The bus is built entirely of steel and is low hung with an extra wide wheel base and capacity of twenty-five passengers. There is a large baggage compartment in the rear.

For the present it is the intention of the transportation company to operate two busses per day in and out of Brainerd, but this will be increased to three within the month, if planned. The running time is 5 hours.

Leaving Brainerd on its first trip, it carried about half a load, which is a very good start considering the fact that the service has as yet received no advertisement locally. One of the passengers on his first trip was A. B. Willing, former manager of the Brainerd Gas and Electric Co.

The Jefferson Highway Transportation Co. will operate four lines out of Minneapolis this season, one north to Brainerd, another through Princeton to Onamia, one west to Wilmar and the fourth south to Rochester. The towns thus served will include: Minneapolis, St. Paul, Osseo, Champlin, Anoka, Dayton, Elk River, Big Lake, Becker, Clear Lake, Cable, St. Cloud, Sauk Rapids, Sartell, Rice, Royalton, Little Falls, Belle Prairie, Fort Ripley, Crow Wing, Barrows, Brainerd, Zimmerman, Princeton, Milaca, Onamia, Willmar, Spicer, New London, Howick, Paynesville, Roscoe, Richmond, Cold Springs, Rockville, St. Joe, Westcott, Hampden, Cannon Falls, Hader, Zumrota, Pine Island, Orinoco, Rochester.

VICTORY VS. CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, April 20.—Some of those who hold that football does not warrant the important place it holds among college undergraduates should stop and ponder over a few words spoken by Percy Haughton when he took over the coaching job at Columbia:

"It will be my purpose to teach the men what they should learn in order to better prepare them for life after they leave the university. If I can do that, if I can contribute toward qualifying them for the finest of citizenship, I will be satisfied."

Football, as it is being conducted now at many of the major universities, is far removed from the old game in which the main essential was considered to win at any cost. The virile quality which football exacts of a young man can be turned to other purposes than the mere running and stopping of the ball.

Tad Jones has had several disappointing seasons with the Yale football team. Old grads yelled for his scalp and critics said he spoiled wonderful prospects, but Jones holds on.

In reply to critics he said after the close of the last season that he might be considered a failure if he was to be judged on the games won and lost by the Yale team, but he was not directing football merely for the purpose of winning every game.

He said he felt that he had succeeded in a vastly more important mission in that he had sent out on the field a team of gentlemen, a team of fine sportsmen and a bunch of boys who were being trained under the most trying conditions to act the same way in after-college days.

It will be remembered that Charley Buell, the guiding genius of the Harvard team, went into the last game with Yale in a very bad physical condition. One or two hard falls would have removed him from the lineup and it had been proved earlier in the season, if it needed proof, that Harvard was not the efficient football machine without Buell that it was with the smart little general in command. Instead of playing the old game of "getting him out," the Yale players purposely "went easy with him" and they lost the game.

Far after it has been forgotten which team won the 1922 Harvard-Yale game, that sparkling piece of sportsmanship will be remembered and the impression it made on all who heard about it will do more moral good than ten touchdowns would have done for Yale.

A Towering Fly

The first time at bat Ruth fussed around in the box and started with a choked swing. He was shifting his position and when he did connect it was a towering fly to right field.

The stage was set for him in the third inning, when he came up with two on. It was noticeable that he found his old stance and he remained almost motionless in the box. He worked Ehmske for two and two and then Ehmske tried what the Giants fooled with in the series last fall—a low floater on the outside. The Babe murdered it.

That proved beyond all doubt that a low curve is not the Babe's groove, and there now remains the problem of finding what is his groove.

When they built the Yale bowl years ago the business sages said it was a foolish move.

When Colonels Ruppert and Huston planned the new stadium for a capacity of 70,000 the baseball owls remarked, "They sure are crazy now."

Proved Too Small

Big as that is it was proved too small on the first day it was used, and with Ruth doing his stuff it will be too small many times this season.

The crowd spectacle was marvelous but the Babe's clout was the big touch of drama, and New York talks about nothing else.

The Babe is back.

Many of them showed up well and Coach Ames is of the opinion that he has material for a winning nine. Lasky and Grimes will probably be used as catchers. Lasky held down that position very creditably on last year's championship team. Abrahamson, Nyman, R. Nelson and E. Brown are trying out for the pitcher's berth. The infield will be much the same as last year, with Hauser at first, Crose, second; Pierce, shortstop, and Abrahamson or Brown at third. Gierok, Simonet and R. Nelson will probably handle the outfield. Other likely looking candidates are: Eugene Kaebel, Clifford Stallcop, and Hubert Rauch, E. Brown will captain the nine.

The following schedule has been arranged but is subject to change: May 2—St. Cloud at Little Falls. May 5—Crosby at Crosby.

GOLF PLAYERS OVER 50 YEARS OF AGE FORM ASSOCIATION

Chicago, April 20.—Tentative plans were made here for the formation of a national golf association of players more than 50 years old, and recommendations were made for a meeting to be held in Chicago within a couple of weeks to formulate plans for the organization. It was suggested that the body be known as Seniors' Golf association, and that state bodies be created so that there eventually would be 48 regional associations which would hold annual tournaments.

HOW BABE HIT FIRST HOME RUN

New York, April 20.—One prodigious swipe that would have been a homer on the sandy expanse of the Sahara has brought Babe Ruth back. The probabilities are he will go greater than ever this season.

Lean of Waist

The Babe, lean of waist and keen of eye, looked with almost childish awe at 74,200 fans gathered in the mammoth new Yankee stadium before the opening game with the Red Sox, and remarked to one of his mates on the bench:

"I'd give one year of my life to connect today."

He connected as he never connected before and he received a demonstration the like of which was never witnessed or heard before. Led by the gray thatched Judge Landis, who rose in his box and tossed his hat into the air the crowd went hysterical and the Babe almost wept with joy.

May Hit a Hundred

"The big fellow may hit 100 homers this season. I know he's back on his stride, and when he's right there are no limits to him," Miller Huggins, manager of the Yanks, said. "Nothing could have been better for him than to get a homer before that crowd, because he tried as he never tried before and he succeeded. He is all confidence now. It has been the mental worry of trying to get back in his stride that has been bothering him. You just watch him."

The whole Yankee team felt the same way. That one blow may be the one that will bring a third pennant to the Yanks.

GOLF PLAYERS OVER 50 YEARS OF AGE FORM ASSOCIATION

Chicago, April 20.—Tentative plans were made here for the formation of a national golf association of players more than 50 years old, and recommendations were made for a meeting to be held in Chicago within a couple of weeks to formulate plans for the organization.

It was suggested that the body be known as Seniors' Golf association, and that state bodies be created so that there eventually would be 48 regional associations which would hold annual tournaments.
